

SACRED STONES

An Immersion Experience from SCUPE

On September 17 three Chicago area architectural wonders will open their doors for your private exploration! Sacred Spaces Ambassador Suzanne Morgan will lead us on a private one-day tour to experience the sights, sounds, and secrets of these extraordinary houses of worship. Reserve your space now for this memorable experience.

Credit: © Bahá'í International Community / media.bahai.org

Photo: © SRS of Chicago

From the grandest Gothic Cathedrals to the most intimate private chapel, humans have sought to express - and to experience - the mystery and majesty of the Divine through architecture.

Chicago's rich tapestry of religious expression makes it home to some of the world's most distinctive sanctuaries, temples, and mosques. Its world class architecture offers a fascinating window into the symbols, traditions, and beliefs of the world's great religions.

In this sensory-rich experience we will explore the art, architecture, and ornament offering fascinating insights into these important faith traditions. This second Sacred Stones exploration features select visits to three locations:

- Bahá'í House of Worship, Wilmette. With its ornate, lacy dome rising 20 stories, it is home to one of the world's oldest and largest Baha'i communities.
- Palatine Gurdwara (Temple) - For nearly 50 years Sikhs have been worshipping in this unique setting, rich in symbolism and beauty.
- Dar-us-Sunnah Mosque in Evanston, IL, a 20th century expression of timeless symbolism.

$60 Ticket Includes:

- Travel between sites
- Lunch
- Full-day access to Suzanne Morgan's architectural and religious expertise.
- Notes and Study Guide

Suzanne Morgan is a Chicago-based architect and author, founder of Sacred Spaces International, and is the Sacred Space Ambassador for the Parliament of the World's Religions.

Saturday, Sept. 17, 2016 ☀ Chicago, IL

Reserve ONLINE

For more information or to reserve your place: www.scupe.com ☀ 312 726-1200

